ART BEFORE IMPRESSIONISM: ART & ARCHITECTURE IN EUROPE AND AMERICA FROM 1800 TO ABOUT 1870

WITH WENDY EVANS

Series of 3 classes $110 COC01

In the 19th century in Europe and America, a reaction against the Enlightenment emphasis on reason led to interest in the mysterious, the macabre and the awesome. Archaeological discoveries encouraged interest in classical antiquity. By mid-century artists began to turn from sentiment and nostalgia for a past golden age to examine the modern world and the issues current conditions raised.

ART FOR PROPAGANDA

Napoleon understood the power of art to shape how he was regarded. He favored classically-inspired art, as emperors and dictators often do, because it recalls the grandeur of the Roman Empire. His downfall inspired propaganda against him and a new nationalism in his former empire.

THE FLOWERING OF ROMANTICISM

Interest in the classical past led to a sentimental approach to classical art which widened into nostalgia for times long ago and places far away. Sentiment legitimizing feelings encouraged a new idea - art as self-expression.

THE RISE OF REALISM

A reaction against romanticizing the distant or imaginary, as well as against the academic focus on history and classical idealism, led some artists and writers to want instead to explore the modern world, ordinary people and social injustice.

CREDITS/REFUNDS:

If you cannot attend a class, you may request a class credit 72 hours or more before the class (or first class in a series) is to be held. Class credits may be applied toward the cost of any future Community House (TCH) class within the next year from the date of issuance of the credit. If you contact TCH within 72 hours of the class start time or after the class has occurred, you are not entitled to a class credit of any kind.

If a class is rescheduled by TCH or the instructor, you are entitled to attend the rescheduled class. Alternatively, if you cannot attend the rescheduled class, you can receive a class credit to be used for any future classes. For classes within a series, you will receive a prorated class credit if you cannot attend the rescheduled class.

A refund will only be given if TCH cancels a class or TCH is given a note, within one week from the scheduled class, from a doctor or medical facility stating that the class taker had a medical emergency. TCH reserves the right to change class locations, schedules, fees, and instructors when necessary.
